Release of Version 2.4.0.9

PennDOT's Engineering Assistant (EngAsst) program has been revised as described on the attached "Summary of August 2013 Revisions - Verison 2.4.0.9". The program was revised to avoid a problem for some PC's with the 64-bit version of Windows 7 or Windows 8. This only affects users of the standalone version of EngAsst. PennDOT users will continue to use the current version within the Engineering Dataset Manager (EngMgr).

Consultants and others, who have a current license for ENGASST Version 2.4.0.6 or earlier, can download Version 2.4.0.9 free of charge from the PennDOT Engineering Software Support website, <http://penndot.engrprograms.com>. Installation instructions are provided at the website.
